Focused on Middle Schoolers

Stanford OHS is an extraordinary school. What people may not know is that we have a vibrant middle school that supports students at this critical time of intellectual and emotional development.

A Strong Foundation

"I am proud to be part of a community that focuses on valuing our middle school students' strengths and developing their amazing skills."

—Patricia Freitas

Academic Program

The Stanford Online High School middle-school curriculum extends the core values and components of our school's academic program to grades 7 and 8. Middle school students select courses that fit into a single, part-time, or full-time schedule. Students take placement tests and work with their Academic Advisor to determine the classes that best meet their needs. Most classes meet two times per week.

Student Life & Community

Stanford OHS recognizes that middle school students have their own set of age-specific needs. Developing positive social, emotional, and academic relationships with all members of the Stanford OHS community is a fundamental component of the program. We have Academic Advisors and Counselors specifically for middle school students.

Student Support

Middle school students have access to the Stanford OHS Writing and Tutoring Center, including assistance from Stanford OHS writing instructors and peer tutors. Peer tutors with advanced understanding of our courses offer meetings with middle school students to work on course material and time management skills. Writing labs are held once a week throughout the school year and function as an extension of Stanford OHS English courses, with an emphasis on supporting students' reading, writing, revision, and critical thinking.
